

It was written by you, but to write you saying that if you would send us a courteous explanation of your attitude in the matter we would be glad to publish it.

Only Makes Offensive Replies.

The replies to these polite communications have been the most offensive letters. As late as last Monday afternoon the Mayor was advised that the Times-Dispatch was anxious to obtain a statement from him. The publisher in the letter of that date to the Mayor, said:

In regard to the point that you make in your letter, namely, that the Times-Dispatch should make it very clear to the public that no personal disagreement took place between Mr. Lecky and yourself, I desire to say that it has been the intention of the Times-Dispatch to give your side of this matter with perfect fairness ever since you called our attention to the fact that you felt in any way aggrieved. As the postscript and correspondence between us has failed to elicit from you the facts and details which would in your opinion have made your position clear to the public, we shall proceed to restate this case with all the information as we have before us.

In his letter of Monday afternoon the managing editor wrote Mayor McCarthy:

We are, as Mr. Bryan has already written you, not only willing, but anxious, if we have done you any injustice, to afford you any opportunity, to make proper corrections. I hope, therefore, that you will send me tomorrow a temperate statement, which we may print, giving your version of what did occur with reference to the abandonment of the parade. In order that the Mayor may be printed with any other statement that the occasion may seem to call for.

Instead of furnishing such statement, the Mayor replied to the publisher in the most discourteous letter, saying that he declined to be put in the position of "apologizing or explaining to the public his conduct." Reprinted by the Times-Dispatch. A reply was sent to this letter, which, under any circumstances, would have dismissed the whole matter and ended the correspondence. The Mayor gave out the correspondence for publication in an afternoon paper yesterday.

The statements which are printed here have been in the hands of the Times-Dispatch for some days, but have been held over, awaiting a statement from the Mayor, in order that there might be no question about giving him an opportunity to make his own statement. These statements would have been printed yesterday but for an earnest desire on the part of the paper to show the utmost courtesy to Mayor McCarthy and to remove any possible ground for the suggestion that in printing the statements now given the Mayor was not done full justice.

He has, however, failed throughout to point out wherein our publication was incorrect or did him injustice.

What Mr. Lecky Says.

The account written for the Times-Dispatch by a staff correspondent was based upon information obtained from Mr. Robert Lecky, Major C. Gray Bossieux, and gentlemen who persuaded Mr. Lecky to abandon his announced purpose of going to the stand and resigning from the committee which had charge of the celebration. Mr. Lecky has written the following signed statement which gives his version of the incident:

In view of the publication of the correspondence between your paper and Mayor McCarthy regarding the Richmond Day incident, I desire to make a statement, that those interested may be in possession of the facts as I know them.

The program for Richmond Day had been arranged by the Chamber of Commerce Committee, Mayor McCarthy and Mr. Peters, and by authority of the committee had been printed in the papers. The one number in which the Richmond people could engage was to assemble at the Inside Inn (11 o'clock), and the parade of the Richmond military as an escort to the Governor. Mayor McCarthy, President Tucker and Mr. Williams, together with the citizens generally. This parade was scheduled to move at 11:30 from the Inside Inn, and on its arrival at the review stand, the exercises of the day were to begin. This plan was adopted after much discussion in the committee as to the best method by which to have our people present at these exercises.

In the division of the work for the day it was agreed that the Mayor should be escorted by the military and in special charge of the review stand with the Richmond police. Mr. Peters was to see to the work of the reception committee at the Virginia and Richmond City Buildings, and for me was left the other work of arranging for the parade, the concerts by the Richmond bands and at the Virginia and Richmond City Buildings, in addition to matters which had been entrusted by the Chamber of Commerce Committee before the appropriation on the part of the city. Mayor Bossieux was selected as marshal of the morning parade, and the bands were at his service for that feature, but he declined to accept of the day they were to do the concert work referred to.

"At 11:20 o'clock, on my arrival at the Inside Inn, I was surprised to find that the bands and military had been disbanded until the 5 o'clock military parade. Upon an inquiry of Major Bossieux as to why this had been done, he told me that the Mayor had disallowed the parade. The situation that confronted me then was to locate the bands (which I did not do until the 5 o'clock military parade) and to get an audience to hear the speakers. This was partly done by several gentlemen going among the people and making announcements that the parade had been dismissed, and requesting the Richmond people to go at once to the review stand.

"After receiving this report from Major Bossieux, I went to the speakers' stand to make inquiry of Mayor McCarthy as to his reasons for dismissing the parade, and was immediately told by his Honor that he had not done so. It was my expressed purpose on the part of the Mayor to turn over to him as the chairman of the Council committee all such unfinished matters as did not come strictly within the Chamber of Commerce field, but his decision brought an issue which I felt should be avoided. I was approached by my constituents during the day as to our failure to carry out the program and they were told that the parade had been dismissed, together with the bands.

"It was my sincere wish that further public reference to this incident would not be had, and to that end I made suggestions that several papers after the appearance of the article in the Times-Dispatch, for in fact, the initial publication was without the least intimation on my part.

"ROBERT LECKY, JR."

When Mayor Bossieux was the ranking military officer at the exposition on Richmond Day, was in command of the military which had charge of the celebration. Mr. Lecky has furnished the Times-Dispatch the following statement, which relates the circumstances under which the parade was dismissed and the military and bands dismissed.

Headquarters, Seventeenth Infantry, Virginia Volunteers, Adjutant's Office, Army, Seventh and Marshall Streets, Richmond, Va., July 29, 1901.

On the arrival of our train at Jamestown we were met at the main entrance by Mr. Lecky, and were instructed by him to escort the Council to the Richmond Building, after which to proceed to the Inside Inn, and at 11:30 to meet the Mayor, Governor and citizens guests to the Lee Parade, and the speaking of the troops. The troops arrived at the Inside Inn, and were directed and formed for the parade at 11:10. The writer saw the Mayor coming out of the Inside Inn, and asked him if it was not understood that he, the Governor and others were to be escorted to the speakers' stand, which was to be held by him that there was no one to escort, and that if I wanted to take the bands and troops and drive a crowd and take them to the Lee Parade for the speaking, I could do so. As I had just been informed by the Mayor that there was no one to escort, I dismissed the troops until 4 o'clock P. M., at which time they were to, and a crowd and take them to the Lee Parade for the speaking, I could do so. As I had just been informed by the Mayor that there was no one to escort, I dismissed the troops until 4 o'clock P. M., at which time they were to, and a crowd and take them to the Lee Parade for the speaking, I could do so.

C. GRAY BOSSIEUX.

What He Wrote the Mayor.

It is interesting to note that the Mayor in publishing his correspondence with the Times-Dispatch fails to make public a letter which was written to him by Major Bossieux, dated July 29th, in reply to a letter that the Mayor had written him. In his letter to the Mayor Major Bossieux uses practically the same language employed in his statement printed above. He says:

"To the best of my recollection the statement made by me to the reporter for the Times-Dispatch is as follows: On arriving at the Inside Inn I met Mr. Lecky, and he informed me that the Mayor had disallowed the parade, and that your reply was 'That there was no one to escort, and that if I wished to do so I could take the bands and troops and drive a crowd and take them to the Lee Parade for the speaking.' I WAS ASKED AND DID SAY THAT I HAD DISMISSED THE PARADE, YOUR RESPONSE TO MY INQUIRY BEING THE BASIS OF MY STATEMENT."

As to Headlines.

In his first letter to the Times-Dispatch the Mayor took special exception to our subheading, "Mayor and Lecky had Sharp Disagreement." The text of the article showed that this disagreement lay in the abandonment of the parade, which came under his direct control, and the fact that the Mayor was attributed to the remark of the Mayor to Major Bossieux, and which the latter appears to have regarded as a personal matter. The statements of men who were connected with the management of the celebration, the public is in position to determine whether or not this paper has done the Mayor of Richmond an injustice, or has given occasion for such intemperate and offensive letters as he has written.

Glenn Getting Impatient.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 30.—Governor Glenn has as yet received no assurances from the Louisville and Nashville and the Carolina and Northwestern Railroads that they will obey the State two and a quarter cent law. He said tonight that unless this speedily came he would proceed against those roads. A letter to-night from the Louisville and Nashville says, as they have only thirteen miles of line in this State, this run at a loss last year, it might be expected that they would not.

The Governor has referred this to the State Corporation Commission.

OHIOANS LAUNCH BOOM FOR TAFT

The Republican Committee Endorses Candidacy of the President's Friend.

FORAKER FORCES BEATEN

COLUMBUS, OHIO, July 30.—The candidacy of William H. Taft, Secretary of War, for the Republican nomination for President, was endorsed by the Republican State Committee today by a vote of fifteen to six. The endorsement carried with it a declaration that the "elimination of Ohio are opposed to the 'elimination of public life of Senators Foraker and Dick.'"

Although beaten by a decisive vote in all the preliminary contests, the adherents of Senator Foraker in the committee refused to accept the olive branch extended by the Taft supporters and when the resolution, as amended, was finally adopted, no effort was made to make the action of the committee unanimous.

A. I. Vodya, the manager of the Taft campaign, declared tonight that the action of the committee was important, in that it gave assurance to other States that Secretary Taft had the support of his party in Ohio, and would be backed by the delegation from this State in the next National Republican Convention.

Foraker Will Not be Bound.

CINCINNATI, O., July 30.—When United States Senator Foraker learned of the action of the Republican State Committee this afternoon he gave out the following statement:

"I cannot add anything to what I said in my open letter published this morning. I wrote that letter, foreseeing the result, and feeling that it was my duty to give notice beforehand that I would not be bound by any such unauthorized action. The next State convention will have authority to speak, and by the action of that convention it will be the duty of every good Republican to abide."

GREYS, Va., July 29.—Rev. Paul Bradley, pastor of the Methodist Church here, dropped dead in his garden at a few minutes of 12 o'clock today. He was sixty-four years old. The cause of his death is not known. He has not been very good for some months. The doctors seem to think it apoplexy. He lived a life and one son, Paul, sixteen years old. The remains will be taken to Bedford City for interment. He had been pastor of the church for two years.

EVELYN THAW IS STUDYING NOW

She Declares She Has No Intention of Returning to the Stage.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw gave an authoritative statement to the Associated Press today concerning her plans, declaring that she has no present intention of returning to the stage, but will devote her energies to the study of music. This statement was called out by published report that Mrs. Thaw intended to take a leading role at a Broadway show, and that she had her husband in the Tombs, after which she made the statement in which she declared she had no intention of returning to the stage.

"I intend to remain here in New York all the summer and fall until the first of September, and then I will go to the country with Mr. Thaw as the price of my low, but I found so much time on my hands in the afternoons and evenings that I took the study of composition, English history and philosophy. Now I am busy all the time."

Mrs. Thaw said she visits the Tombs prison, where her husband is confined, awaiting his second trial for the killing of Stanford White on Madison Square Roof Garden a year ago. Mrs. Thaw resides in a secluded uptown apartment hotel.

SCALY ERUPTIONS COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which I used almost daily. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, Salve, Ointment, and in fact I was constantly giving some remedy a fair trial, but without success. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. B. Hiram Mattingly, Vermilion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1900."

GEORGIA DECLARES FOR PROHIBITION

Both Houses of Legislature Pass the Bill and Governor Favors.

ATLANTA, GA., July 30.—The Harbison prohibition bill, passed by the Georgia Senate some days ago, was adopted by the House tonight by a vote of 139 to 39. Two amendments added to the bill by the House will make it necessary for the measure to go back to the Senate for concurrence, of which there is no doubt, and the bill then will go to Governor Hoke Smith for his signature, which has been practically pledged, and prohibition will become a law in Georgia.

The amendments to-day provide the sale of pure alcohol by retail druggists on the prescription of a reputable physician, and also allow wholesale druggists to conduct pure alcohol in stock for sale only to retailers.

The bill prohibits the manufacture or keeping on hand in any place of business, the sale or giving away to induce business within the State of any liquor that may produce intoxication.

The new law is to become effective January 1, 1902.

her in Chicago, and also knew C. A. Coey, of Chicago, and Dr. H. A. Thomas of the "101 Ranch." He was frequently a member of parties at which Miss Matthews and the other men referred to were members.

Rumbaugh was the one who accompanied Miss Green, the nurse, to the lively stable about 5 o'clock Monday morning to receive the horse. Rumbaugh was alone with the horse when he returned. It was he who sent the telegram to Coey, asking that he "do the right thing by the girl," and it was with him that Miss Matthews left the letter in which was enclosed another letter to Coey.

The officers have not yet had time to examine Rumbaugh's papers and effects, and the coroner has had his room locked. If Rumbaugh had not destroyed the letter left him by Miss Matthews, together with the letter to Coey, it is believed they will show startling facts that may entangle other people.

Sent Telegram to Lover.

The telegram sent by Rumbaugh to Coey, taken in the light of his suicide, has more meaning than before. It was as follows:

"Laura committed suicide on account of you. Letters left behind. Send $300 at once for expenses."

The officers say that the letter shows that Rumbaugh knew Coey well enough to speak to him of Laura's death, and to ask him to send $300. A service medal of honor shows that he served with distinction in the Fourth Pennsylvania Infantry in the Philippines.
